Four injured in bridge pileup

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
Four people were injured Tuesday morning in two traffic accidents which occurred at about the same time on the Bay St. Louis US-90 bridge in the east and westbound lanes.

Andrew Collins, 70, of P. O. Box 331, Waveland, and Joseph Plunkett, 73, of 128 Leopold Street in Bay St. Louis are listed in good condition at Hancock General Hospital in that city.

Steven Kidd, 17, of 804 South Beach Boulevard and Ruth R. Collins, 62, of the same Waveland address, were treated and released from the hospital.

However, the spokesman would not release the type of injuries suffered by the four.

The Bay St. Louis Police Department conducted an investigation of the accident in the westbound lanes and the State Highway Patrol probed the eastbound accident.

Police Chief Douglas Williams Tuesday afternoon explained Ruth Collins and Joseph Plunkett were each driving an automobile on the westbound bridge lanes.

"Collins apparently slowed down and was struck in the rear by the Plunkett vehicle. The Plunkett vehicle jumped the median curb and stopped, blocking both eastbound lanes," Williams explained.

Andrew Collins, 12, the woman's son, was riding in her automobile, but was apparently not injured.

Collins was taken to the hospital and treated for lacerations on his face and arms. He was released Tuesday afternoon.

Highway patrol officers were unavailable Tuesday and Wednesday for a report regarding the eastbound accident, but the elder Andrew Collins also reportedly slowed his pickup truck when he saw his wife and was struck in the rear by the Kidd automobile.

Kidd was reportedly cited by the highway patrol with following too close to the Collins pickup.

He evidently was treated for facial lacerations and released.

Responding to the accident were Williams and Patrolmen Brian Barrie and George Weatherly of the Bay department, a Bay Fire Department unit, two Mobile Medic units and Patrolman John Wilkerson of the Waveland Police Department.

The investigation of the Hancock County Sheriff's Department directed bridge traffic which was temporarily halted by the accident.

The fire department washed gasoline from the bridge and helped free the elder Andrew Collins from his smashed pickup utilizing the Jaws of Life.

Arson squad member reveals:

Hancock blaze rate dramatically reduced

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
Arson-related blazes, particularly woods fires, have been reduced some 80 percent this year in Hancock County apparently the result of stepped-up law enforcement efforts by the County Sheriff's Department Arson Investigation Squad.

Ed Friloux, Diamondhead Fire Department fire safety administrator and member of the three-man squad, Tuesday said the fire rate reduction is based on the number of responses by local fire departments primarily during the annual peak forest fire season—October through April.

This year to date the squad has arrested eight persons on various arson charges, the courts have convicted seven and the eighth was scheduled for trial Wednesday night, Friloux reported.

Friloux credited Sheriff Ronald A. Peterson for his assistance in forming the deputized squad which was created to combat the county's previously high fire rate.

The squad is the first of its type in the state and other counties are patterning similar units after the Hancock law enforcement group, the investigator reported.

He said the East Hancock Volunteer Fire Department recently responded to several woods fires set within its jurisdiction and the squad is seeking the perpetrators of two woods arsons which occurred this week.

The investigation warned that persons igniting outdoor fires must obtain a burning permit from the appropriate fire district department or be assigned a permit number by the Mississippi Forestry Commission Rocky Hill Firetower personnel for blazes in the county outside districts.

Hancock fire districts include the Cities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland, and the Kiln and Diamondhead Communities.

Friloux recommends in addition to the permits, all burning to be conducted north of I-10 be reported to the Diamondhead department and those activities south of the interstate be reported to Bay St. Louis Fire Department so a firefighting unit is not unnecessarily dispatched to the scene.

"Regardless of the permit, those people clearing property or burning

Search to continue for missing teenager

By ELLIS CUEVAS
Dragging operations were halted at 3 p.m. Wednesday in the search for a Baton Rouge teenager presumed drowned in the Mississippi Sound near Buccaneer State Park, according to Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson.

"The water started to get choppy as the wind picked up and dragging operations had been going on since 6 a.m. We intend to start again at 5 p.m. if the water is calmer," Peterson added.

The dragging operations began late Wednesday after a pirogue carrying Roy Schexneider, 16, of Baton Rouge and Paul Allen Hinton, 12, of Gulfport, a stepbrother, capsized.

Hinton swam to shore, according to police.

Peterson said, "At 7:50 p.m. Waveland Police received a call and Patrolman Chuck James was the first to arrive at the scene of the drowning reportedly taking place about one-half mile from the shore in the Sound from Buccaneer State Park."

"Schexneider is presumed drowned, as his stepbrother saw him go down. We have been told he could swim. A sister Susan and her husband George Terrell were on the beach and witnessed the incident. The water became very rough Tuesday night so we suspended the search until 6 a.m. Wednesday," Peterson allowed.

Council fails to undo veto

By BRENT MACKEY
The Bay St. Louis City Council Tuesday failed to muster the 4-1 vote needed to override Mayor Larry Bennett's recent veto of an ordinance which would have forbidden the use of public vehicles on private property.

The council voted 3-2 to keep the ordinance off the books with Bennett receiving support from Councilmen Harry Bayre, Sheldon Smith and Wilmer Seymour.

All those councilmen pointed to an existing state law as the reason why an ordinance is not needed here.

In addition, Councilman Seuzeneau claimed Councilman Gene Taylor was requesting passage of the ordinance as a 'vendetta' against the mayor.

Taylor introduced the ordinance originally, but Tuesday he received only the support of Councilman James Thriffling III.

In response to Seuzeneau's acquisition, Taylor replied, "Strange you think it's a vendetta when the mayor's name wasn't mentioned in the original ordinance."

Taylor claimed he had been misquoted by the Daily Herald and implied he never meant to implicate the mayor when attempting to have the ordinance passed.

"I made sure to say parish and politician...and if anybody is hurt I apologize," he said.

However, when challenged by Seuzeneau to give specifics of where public vehicles were being used on private property, Taylor said he saw city equipment being used in front of the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club the day after Labor Day. He also pointed to a Daily Herald article and picture showing Bay St. Louis public equipment on property at Crosby's Furniture several days after the building burned last year.

"I think two is enough. I think every tax payer ought to know where his city

White Cypress resident jailed after armed arrest at airport

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
A White Cypress Community resident suspected of criminal activity in involvement in other areas of the nation is being held in Hancock County Jail in Bay St. Louis without bond pending extradition to Michigan.

Sheriff Ronald A. Peterson Tuesday said Joseph W. Perry Jr., 48, of Route 1, Box 325-C, Pass Christian was arrested Monday afternoon at Stennis International Airport by a host of heavily armed federal, state and local law enforcement officers.

Perry was wanted for allegedly breaking into the Michigan Secretary of State's office in Birmingham, Mich. with intent to commit larceny, the sheriff said.

Perry was arrested by Peterson, Sheriff's Investigators Delbert Seay and Alvin Ladner, Investigators Sandra Henley and Robert (Poochie) Tartavouille of the Waveland Police Department, two unidentified customs officials, Chief Investigator T.P. Naylor of the State Highway Patrol's Gulf Coast District, and several other unidentified law enforcement personnel.

Robbers strike in Waveland

Armed robbers Wednesday afternoon reportedly took cash from Bayless Shoe Source located in the Chesapeake Shopping Center on US-90 in Waveland. At press time Police Department officials and store managers were not available for comment regarding the incident where three employees were reportedly held at gunpoint in the back of the retail store just before the criminals fled the scene.

"The U.S. Customs Service initiated an investigation which led to the findings that the man was a Michigan fugitive. An investigation is continuing to determine if the suspect is involved in other criminal activity in the United States," Peterson stated.

Peterson would not comment when asked if Perry was involved in Watergate-style operation involving the Michigan officer possible drug traffic through the airport.

But the sheriff noted that federal officials thought Perry might have been attempting to leave the county by air.

The law officers armed themselves with M-16s and various carbine rifles and pistols to arrest Perry who is apparently considered dangerous.

Peterson said a search warrant was issued by Justice Court Judge John Chevis for Perry's residence where about one ounce of marijuana was discovered.

The fugitive is also charged with a misdemeanor marijuana possession charge resulting from the search.

The sheriff noted that Perry evidently is not employed anywhere.

Peterson added that Perry had been under surveillance by federal officials for several weeks.

320 South Beach Boulevard in Waveland, he died at Singing River Hospital in Pascagoula after being transferred from Hancock General Hospital in Bay St. Louis.

According to Bay St. Louis Police Chief Douglas Williams, Breaux attempted to climb out of the cab of a pickup truck into the bed of the vehicle while the pickup was moving.

The accident occurred near Buccaneer State Park at approximately 5:30 p.m., Williams said.

Driver of the vehicle, Thomas Watt Siefken, 207 E. Cottage Street, Millersville, Pa., apparently was unaware that Breaux had fallen from the pickup, Williams said.

Another car behind the truck stopped to render assistance before the pickup turned around and came back, police said.

Williams noted several people were in the pickup truck.

"First they brought him to Dr. Breaux's house and then they brought him to the corner of Washington and Third Streets in Bay St. Louis. Funeral services were conducted Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the funeral home.

Dismissal for burial will be Thursday at 10 a.m. at the funeral home with burial following at Cedar Rest Cemetery in Bay St. Louis.

Survivors include his parents, William T. and Sue Davis; grandparents, William and Ruth Davis; two uncles, Leland C. Davis of Bay St. Louis and Pharral E. Davis, all of Bay St. Louis; and host of relatives and friends.

KIMBERLY MILLER

The body of Miss Kimberly Dawn Miller, 6, a resident of 1920 Arsenal St. in St. Louis, Mo., will be returned to St. Louis.

Miller drowned Saturday, June 5, 1982 at a Waveland motel swimming pool.

MRS. ELMANEWMAN

Services for Mrs. Elma Lambeth Newman were held Wednesday at Laughlin Funeral Home Chapel in Huntsville, Ala., with burial in Maple Hill Cemetery, Huntsville.

Mrs. Newman, 71, sister of Mrs. Catherine McDonald of Pass Christian and a resident of Huntsville, died May 31, 1982 in Huntsville.

Mrs. Newman was a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary, Beta Sigma Pi, National Retired Teachers Association and the First Baptist Church in Huntsville.

She had taught school in Mississippi before her death.

Other survivors include a sister and a brother.

FLOYD WILLIS

Floyd Lester Willis, 88, a native of Odell, Neb., and a resident of Pearllington, died Tuesday, June 8, 1982 in the Methodist Hospital in New Orleans.

Visitation will be today from 7-10 p.m. at the Poole Funeral Home in Slidell. Funeral services will be Friday at 2 p.m. in the funeral home chapel. Burial will be in Lincoln Memorial Park in Lincoln, Nebraska the following Monday.

Mr. Willis is survived by three sons, Clare A. Willis of Hayward, Calif., Lester F. Willis of California, Mo., and Robert L. Willis of Pearllington; one brother, Joseph D. Willis of Rocking, Calif.; one sister, Mary Catrell of Lincoln, Neb.; 20 grandchildren, 17 great-grandchildren, one great-great-grandchild, and one great-great-great-grandchild.

him to his brother's house. Apparently no one knew where Hancock General Hospital was," Williams stated.

Eventually Breaux was taken to the corner of Beach Boulevard and Court Street in Bay St. Louis where Patrolman Judge Flood was at work directing traffic for the Beach Front Festival.

Patrolman Murray Ladner, who is trained as a first responder, was the first to answer Flood's call for assistance.

According to Williams, Flood began working on Breaux until a Mobile Medic unit arrived to transport the youth to the hospital.

Breaux was transferred from Hancock General Hospital at 9:14 p.m.

Siefken was charged by Bay St. Louis with driving while intoxicated and driving with an expired license. He was released on a $350 property bond.

Breaux's obituary notice appears on page 2A.

Simpson jailed under heavy bond

A Bay St. Louis man arrested in Hancock County jail Sunday on a $1,000 bond for charges of public drunkenness, disturbing the peace, and contempt of court.

Troy Simpson, 34, of Route 2, Box 229 Bay St. Louis was arrested Sunday at 11:45 p.m. in the parking lot of North Beach Boulevard in downtown Bay St. Louis.

According to Patrolman Bay St. Louis Police Officer Murray Ladner, Simpson was with several other youths who were drinking beer in the parking lot.

Ladner alleged Simpson became abusive and threw a beer can against the wall of a building. Ladner and Patrolman Bob Wells told the group to leave the parking lot.

Simpson then attempted to grab Ladner's nightstick. Ladner stated. The two allegedly struggled before Simpson was finally handcuffed.

Ladner said he injured his thumb during the fracas.

Three other police officers, including Mike Hobby, George Weatherly, and Willie Harrington, were called to the scene.

Simpson was the only person arrested.

According to Ladner, this is the second time within a month that he has arrested Simpson.

On May 28 Simpson was arrested and charged with public drunkenness, disturbing the peace and contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

In that incident, Simpson was allegedly in a car with a minor at the American Legion Pier in Bay St. Louis.

Ladner said he received complaints that the car, being driven by the minor, was spraying gravel by spinning its wheels and running people off the road.

Hwy. 603, I-10 crash injures three women

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

Three women are hospitalized as a result of a Sunday afternoon accident at the intersection of Highway 603 and Interstate 10.

Gloria McAttee, 36, of Central Avenue, Apt. 28 in Bay St. Louis; Nola Pearl Duplantier, Route 2, Box 614, Bay St. Louis; and Gwendolyn K. Brown, 26, P. O. Box 6546, Gulfport, were all reported Tuesday in good condition at Hancock General Hospital in Bay St. Louis.

A hospital spokesman refused to release the type of injuries suffered by the women.

Sheriff Ronald A. Peterson of the Hancock County Sheriff's Department Tuesday said Deputy Harold Heine's investigation of the approximate 8 p.m. mishap indicate Brown was turning her automobile from the westbound interstate off-ramp to the southbound highway lane when the vehicle struck the left front portion of a car driven by McAttee traveling south on Hwy. 603.

Duplantier was an occupant in the McAttee vehicle.

Peterson noted Brown is charged with driving under the influence and running a stop sign.

WAVELAND COLLISION

Two Bay St. Louis residents were injured in a Waveland car-motorcycle accident which occurred at about midnight Monday.

Police Chief Donald Dorn Tuesday reported Kathlee Quintini, 19, of 609 Beyer Drive and Perry Williams, 20, of 240 Sycamore St. were treated and released Monday from Hancock General suffering various injuries.

Allegation of criminal and reckless driving was made by a police officer who said Simpson was driving recklessly and endangering the lives of others.

The charge of contempt of court was the first added to other charges. Simpson was arrested Sunday morning.

Earlier this year, Simpson faced multiple charges after taking control of an automobile and driving into the J.R. Ford Store and Mawood Lagoon at the corner of Nicholson Avenue and U.S. 90. Simpson was charged with driving recklessly, driving without a license, and driving while intoxicated.

CHARGED WITH FIGHTING
Three people were arrested Sunday in connection with a fighting incident Sunday night near the Gulf of the Gulf Church in Bay St. Louis.

Thomas A. Morris, 26, of U.S. 90 in Bay St. Louis, was in the Hancock County Jail Monday after charges of disturbing the peace were filed.

Donald Carver, 19, of Route 2, Box 614 had been released on property bond after being charged with being drunk and disorderly.

And Michael Stringer, 20, of No. 9 Weatherford Trailer Park in Baton Rouge, was out of jail on a $50 bond for charges of disturbing the peace.

All charges were in connection with the alleged fight.

According to the Bay St. Louis Chief Douglas Williams, an argument over a parking spot caused a fight between Stringer and Fox. After the fight broke out, Carver allegedly began to assist Stringer, Williams said.

Both Fox and Carver were treated at Hancock General Hospital. Stringer refused treatment.

Officers James Clark, Ben Palmer, and Barbara Anderson were called to the scene, Williams added.

Dorn said Patrolman John Wilkerson's investigation of the accident indicated a compact automobile driven by Susan Quintini, 18, sister of Kathlee Quintini and of the same address, was traveling west on Central Avenue and turning left to LaFite Drive when a motorcycle driven by Williams which was traveling east on the avenue struck the right side of the car.

Kathlee Quintini was an occupant in her sister's car, Dorn added.

The police chief said Susan Quintini apparently did not see the motorcycle, but no charges were filed in the mishap.

Dorn said the cycle damage was estimated roughly at $300 and the car at $1,000.

Rash of Bay breakins, burglaries reported

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

A rash of recent burglaries and attempted thefts in Bay St. Louis are under investigation by the Police Department.

A break-in at Mary's Auto Body Shop at the corner of Ulman and Dunbar Avenues apparently occurred sometime during the weekend, but nothing was stolen, Police Chief Douglas Williams Tuesday said.

The chief reported shop owner Marvin Zitterkopf found a broken lock at the establishment Monday morning and evidence of where someone attempted to gain entry to an adjacent radiator repair facility.

Patrolman Larry Ladner investigated the incidents.

Someone also attempted to gain entry during the weekend to Lusch Department Store at 406 Third St., the chief said.

Store owner Donald Lusch Monday morning notified the police department.

that he found a door screen cut and pry marks on the adjoining door, Williams reported.

Patrolman Barbara Ellspermann investigated the incident. Ellspermann also investigated a burglary at Kergosien Mini Warehouse No. 18 on Ulman Avenue rented by George Whitney of 365 Woodman Ave. in Pass Christian.

Williams said Dianne Smith of L.L. Kergosien and Son Realty and Insurance Co. notified police of the apparent weekend theft where burglars evidently gained entrance to the storage area by cutting a padlock with bolt cutters.

A new Sony AM-FM cassette player and radio was stolen from the mini warehouse, the chief said.

Patrolman Jim Calk investigated a Sunday burglary of a home at 606 in various items from an automobile parked at the north end of Beach

Williams said Bret Talbot, 22, and his fiancée Lori Huet, both of Baton Rouge, La. and Cedar Point area of the city, were on a boating excursion after launching their craft at the nearby public ramp when the theft occurred at about 10 a.m.

"Talbot and Huet locked the car up, had placed an extra set of keys in the glove compartment and concealed several high-priced items in the trunk," the chief stated.

Williams explained the burglars apparently opened the locked car door, pried the glove compartment open and utilized the keys to open the trunk where $50 in cash, a tool box containing tools valued at $250, a $1,000 gold ring, a $300 initialed gold ring, a $175 high school ring, a $100 pair of prescription glasses, checkbooks and identification and credit cards were stored.

The department has no suspects in all the incidents.

Jewelry was also apparently stolen from the 110 Washington St. residence of Susan Miah recently, the police chief noted.

Williams said Miah reported some $3,000 in jewelry was stolen from her home.

The chief said arrest warrants have been issued for the suspects who are believed to have fled to Florida.

A check on the investigation from our police station Lambert Street, Bay St. Louis, is in better to let you know the progress of the investigation.

Bay Council declares gas line emergency

Bay St. Louis City Council Tuesday declared a gas line emergency in the 100 and 200 blocks of Washington Street.

The council also agreed to replace the existing two blocks of line, if necessary.

Wednesday Bay St. Louis Mayor Larry Bennett said city crews patched a leak in the area last week.

Although that leak was already fixed, a fourth leak was detected directly across the street on a gas line which runs along the opposite side of the street.

To remedy the problem the council approved contacting many firms as possible to receive bids on repairing the leak.

Since the situation was declared an emergency, the job will not have to be advertised.

The council also accepted a proposal from the Plevyco firm of Broadway and Seal to oversee the work of laying new line for a fee of $1,500.

Buddy Broadway, head of the firm, said that fee would include one year's renovation of the entire two blocks of line, approximately 2,000 feet.

At the meeting, Utility Head Bill Johnston noted a gas leak survey crew recommended the line be replaced in 1980.

Bennett said Wednesday the city had been busy fixing other leaks and did not have the time or manpower to address the Washington leak.

"We just had gas leaks in so many other areas of the city that we never got to Washington Street," Bennett said.

Also at the meeting, Broadway told the council that plans for widening the 100 and 200 blocks of Main Street are being reviewed by the Federal Highway Administration.

Approval is expected within a month. Once the plans are approved the council can advertise the job, he said.

However, Broadway warned that gas, water and sewer leaks in that area must be repaired before the highway administration will allow the city to bid.

Broadway claimed there is a leaking gas main in the area.

He also saw a couple of leaks in the water main and two or three leaks in the sewer," he added.

Bennett agreed to name city crews to patch the leaks within next month so the city could bid the area widening.

However, the council recommended Broadway and Seal oversee the job and the council approved hiring the engineering firm of G. L. G. & S.

Also Tuesday, the council approved a preliminary report or work required to pave streets and add sewer, gas and water lines throughout the city and especially in the annexed areas.

The report was submitted by the Jackson engineering firm of Lewis and Eaton, Partner, Inc.

A motion by Councilman Sheldon Starnes that the mayor, city clerk, and police and public works proceed with all deliberate speed to make applications for funding was included in the motion to accept the preliminary report.

A group of annexed area residents have recently threatened to sue city in hopes the court will force the city to take action to provide them with gas, water, sewer and paved streets.

That group has scheduled a 7 p.m. meeting tonight in the City-County Library in Bay St. Louis.

In other action at the meeting in City Hall, the council tabled bids for rehabilitation of eight houses in the Small Cities Project area of the city.

Citizens whose homes will be renovated include: Amelia Collins of 416 S. Cannon Street; Pauline Dorsey of Washington Street; Marie Johnson of 601 Kalia Street; Virginia Jones of 102 Wain Street; Diane Shabazz, 410 Washington Street; Florence Duke of 411 St. John Street; and Eunice Boudin of 301 Washington Street.

Also at the meeting the council heard a report from Ron Murray, a consultant for the Small Cities Project, that eight more houses can be renovated this year.

The council then approved an agreement to pay Murray $6,120 for drawing up bid specifications for each house.

Veto

After a long and heated debate, the council should have voted to veto the ordinance.

He explained some misconception has arisen concerning the ordinance inhibiting police and fire departments from carrying out their normal duties.

"We only want to make sure that city vehicles are being used in an official capacity or private property."

Normal police and fire department activities would not be affected by the ordinance, he said.

The ordinance vetoed by Bennett states, "That it is illegal for public employees and public equipment to be used on private property, unless it is within the scope of business being done for the City of Bay St. Louis."

Thurley also noted the city is getting out from under a one-half cent sales tax liability in reference to a youth who died in a car crash off a city lot.

He stated a third part of the ordinance, which concerns who should be allowed to use city vehicles, will provide the city with more liability in case of an accident.

Seymour said the ordinance was a second time because he said the ordinance was a first time ordinance and he was not sure if the ordinance was a first time ordinance.

Farve, who voted against the ordinance, said he was not sure if the ordinance was a first time ordinance.

Waveland PD investigating child drowning

The Waveland Police Department is investigating a Saturday night drowning death of a child at a local motel.

Police Chief Donald Dorn Monday said Kimberly Dawn Miller, 6, of St. Louis, Mo., was found by family members at about 6:30 p.m. at the bottom of the Silvercrest Motel swimming pool on US-90.

Dorn said circumstances leading to the drowning are sketchy, but are being investigated by the department.

The child and the child's mother, Barbara Miller, were apparently in Bay St. Louis when the child drowned.

A woman apparently directed her son and daughter to care for the child, but the child's drowning occurred, she reported.

Dorn added the family was planning to move to this area.

Patrolman John Wilkerson conducted a preliminary investigation of the incident. The child's body this week was returned to St. Louis for burial.

Bits 'n pieces

We understand there is a pretty blue parakeet flying around the 100 block of Ulman in Bay St. Louis. We hope the little fellow finds his way home.

Bay St. Louis City crews were busy Monday morning cleaning-up Beach Boulevard from the Beachfront Festival. It was a lot of trash to be collected and everyone's glad prompt action was taken.

Many of our residents as well as several elected officials are wondering when the work on the Beach Road will get moving at a faster pace.

On Wednesday we noted a few people working with the removal of old concrete.

It has been really dry in recent weeks but probably by the time to place new roadway comes along it will be the rainy season.

Beach Road repairs for some reason or other seem to have been a problem for years.

It is amazing how many people can be mobilized with a few minutes in Hancock County when a disaster happens. A case in point was the drowning near Buccaneer State Park in the Sound Tuesday night.

It did not take long at all for all types of volunteers to be on the scene, boats in the water searching and dragging.

Everyone seems to be willing to pitch-in to help, we also remember last week when the big explosion happened in Harrison County and traffic had to be rerouted.

Gloria Tartavouille, secretary, and Mel Raboteau, book-keeper in the sheriff's office were both on US-90 directing traffic.

When there is a need, many offer their services.

Senator Thad Cochran

SPECIAL REPORT:

FEDERAL CONTRACTS FOR SMALL BUSINESS

Senator Thad Cochran (R-Miss.) is calling for Congressional support of a national agriculture export policy to relieve American farmers of uncertainty of embargoes.

"The practice of embargoing farm exports as a tool of foreign policy has resulted in lost sales to American farmers, depressed farm markets, and damaged the United States' reputation as a reliable exporter," Cochran said.

The Mississippi senator is backing a joint resolution that would declare as national policy that US agriculture exports would be interrupted only as part of a general embargo of other American goods and services. The resolution also specifies such an embargo would take place only in extreme circumstances.

Cochran said this action is especially appropriate at this time because of the depressed agriculture markets and low farm prices.

"The lack of a clear cut national embargo policy has created uncertainty among our foreign customers," Cochran said. "I'm supporting the adoption of this embargo policy to insure America maintains its position as the world's greatest exporter of food."

Cochran says past restrictions on American farm exports often has resulted in the creation of new markets for our competitors, and in lost markets for American farmers.

Legislation sponsored by Senator Thad Cochran could result in a larger share of federal contracts for America's small businesses.

"Small businesses have been steadily losing ground in their bid for government contracts. This very vital segment of our economy should be given a better opportunity to bid on federal government contracts," Cochran said.

Statistics compiled by the Small Business Administration show that the small business share of federal contracts has been on the decline during the last decade. In 1981, only 23 percent of federal contracts went to small businesses.

The legislation sponsored by Cochran contains several provisions to encourage small business participation in government procurement contracts. These include breaking down large system contracts into smaller contracts, simplifying contract procedures, and lengthening the time to bid on contracts.

"The federal government is the largest purchaser of goods and services in the United States. This legislation offers a variety of ways to open up competitive bidding so a larger segment of our business community can participate," Cochran said.

Small businesses provide almost one half of America's Gross National Product and more than one half of the private sector employment.

HIGHWAY BEAUTY—This elderberry tree located in the median of US-90 West of Waveland is in full bloom. The thing which makes it stand out is the fact it is the only shrub in the area near a drainage and breaks the open space between the east and west lanes of US-90. (Staff photo by Ellis Cuevas)

The Bottom Line

Candid Answers To Your Questions About Advertising and Business Topics.

By S. GALE DENLEY
Associate Professor of Journalism
University of Mississippi

Quite often The Bottom Line gets questions about starting a new business. In a recent Advertising Age the principals of Maresca-Wolff, a New York marketing firm, recounted the story of Diet Center, one of the top rated franchise operations in the country.

The operation is based on techniques developed by Sybil Ferguson and her husband in their Idaho home. The business now grosses $90 million a year, based on principles that the writers called fundamental. They continued:

"In a true sense the Fergusons have dotted the i's and crossed the t's in all aspects of the marketing spectrum in order to get maximum effectiveness for themselves and their franchisees." A key element of the foundation on which this company is built is sincerity and genuine interest in the people they serve. The people who are their customers and the people who make up the corporate staff. "It may sound somewhat corny, but this wholesome, joyful approach to doing business has created one of the most effective business operations in America today. Diet Center handles 2 million patrons a year, with women losing an average of 3 1/2 pounds a week, men a pound a day. A new Diet Center opens virtually every day.

The points that can be learned from Diet Center's success are based on the fundamentals that have built the free enterprise system in America:

"Identify a need and develop the service or product that satisfactorily fulfills it;

"Make sure the product or service is of the finest quality and most reasonable in cost for the customer while returning a reasonable profit;

"Operate with a solid but lean staff that allows strong control over all aspects of the program, avoid 'middle-managementitis' (bureaucracy building);

"Maintain strong communications among all aspects of the business, from the very top to the lowest echelon;

"Tell your story in simple, straightforward terms; don't depend upon gimmicks and creative flair alone."

My advice: go and do likewise.

I have a new business in a good location. And right now I have all the store traffic I need and can handle. Why should I advertise?

Dear WSIA: You are like the man whose house is not burning. Why should he have casualty insurance?

The answer is just in case something happens. And chances are something will happen.

Remember several of them in your position.

In the first place, you are new. New places of business quite often attract attention just because they are new.

It is especially true if they are in a good location.

Which brings up the second point.

Your good location is probably not a matter of your own particular spot but is rather the result of being situated close to other businesses that draw customers.

So your good location is really beyond your control. You are at the mercy of good neighbors.

If something happens to them—competition in other locations; internal management problems, etc.—something also happens to you.

Therefore you need to build an image for your place of business.

It is a matter of insurance against unforeseeable factors that could adversely affect your operation.

Insurance does not mean it should also be a matter of insurance against your business. It is the local market.

Bottom line: wait until you need more business and advertising. By then it may be too late.

Hancock Arson Squad investigates 3 fires

By ELLIS CUEVAS

The building owner, automobile by its owner in the Leetown Community has caused his being arrested for arson in the third degree, according to Ed Friloux, Hancock County arson investigator.

Richard Lynn Brown, Rt. 3, Box 511 (Leetown) allegedly had gotten into an argument with his common-law wife, Lillian Brown, about the automobile he was driving Sunday. Brown apparently fled the scene and was arrested by Friloux.

Since the family did not own a telephone, they were contacted by Friloux, who called the Leetown Fire Department and the Leetown Police Department.

Hancock County Sheriff's Office and Leetown Police Department were alerted to the fire. Brown was arrested by Friloux and taken to the Leetown Police Station.

The fire was used and two photographs from Diamondhead Fire Department, Port of Spain, and evidence was gathered and the cause of the fire was investigated, according to the arson investigator.

Friloux said he questioned Brown regarding the fire and he was released. Brown was arrested by Friloux and taken to the Leetown Police Station.

Friloux said he questioned Brown regarding the fire and he was released. Brown was arrested by Friloux and taken to the Leetown Police Station.

White Cypress Fire Department answered the call with Friloux and Reggie Fayard Jr. arson investigator.

HOME DESTROYED

The Wolf Creek Road home owned by Norman Devine was destroyed by fire Friday afternoon with damage estimates set at $30,000 according to Friloux.

Cause of the fire is under investigation by arson squad members Friloux and Fayard. Fire units from White Cypress and Kila answered the alarm.

SHORELINE FIRE

A fire caused an explosion which destroyed a White Cypress mobile home, according to Friloux.

The fire was reported about 10 p.m. Friday and damage was estimated at $20,000. The mobile home was owned by William Michael Beach, 6541 Road 10, White Cypress.

Institute issues protection advisory

Glass from a window lay scattered on the carpet. Rain spots have already begun to stain the couch. Outside, a tree lay fallen across the carport; and the roof is dotted with patches of missing shingles.

The Insurance Information Institute reminds Gulf Coast residents that June marks that start of the hurricane season and that preparation is a key factor in safely weathering a big storm.

Tips on what to do before, during and after a storm are contained in a pamphlet, "Hurricane Survival Checklist," free from the Institute.

Besides taking measures to protect property, the checklist advises an update of insurance and a complete inventory of household possessions.

The inventory should include a brief description of each item, the date it was purchased and its cost new. Keep receipts and cancelled checks on all purchases. Take pictures of antiques and other hard-to-describe valuables.

Once there is an idea of the value of personal possessions, one can more easily tell if insurance is adequate.

Usually, the amount of the insurance on possessions will equal 50 percent of the amount of insurance on the house.

The homeowners policy, however, limits to $500 or less the amount payable on jewelry, watches, stamp and coin collections and a few other items.

Check with an insurance agent about purchasing additional coverage for these types of valuables.

The homeowners policy automatically provides for replacement cost coverage on the home, but homeowners must carry an amount of insurance equal to 80 percent of the home's replacement cost to get full benefit of this provision.

An insurance agent can help determine if a policy meets this 80 percent requirement.

Make sure policies, inventories and any receipts are kept in a secure place that will not be damaged in a storm, such as a safe deposit box. If evacuation is necessary because of the approach of a hurricane, be sure the insurance agent knows how to reach the policyholder and that he knows how to reach the agent.

A free copy of the "Hurricane Survival Checklist," plus a free copy of "Taking Inventory," is available by writing the Insurance Information Institute, 1001 Howard Ave., New Orleans, La. 70113; or by calling 1-800-221-4354.

Cabaret featuring farce

Currently playing at Minacapelli's Cabaret Theatre in Slidell is "Natalie Needs a Nightie," a sex farce which will continue through July 17.

"Natalie" stars newcomers Tom Hill and Kat Stevenson, both playing characters named Tommy Bright, one a salesman, the other an authoress.

The cast also includes Greg Beron, Phil Wood, Janice Mau, Gina Pauratori and John Straub.

Elliott Kenner directs the fast moving vehicle about a salesman trying to invent a wife and family in order to keep his job with a company where marriage is compulsory.

In trying to fool his boss he comes up with not one wife but three and a set of triplets. What's more, two of his wives are men.

"Natalie Needs a Nightie" winds its way to a surprise ending.

"Natalie" plays Thursday through Saturday nights at 8:30 p.m. with a 6:30 p.m. buffet, and on Sundays at 2:30 p.m. with buffet at 1 p.m.

For reservations, call 643-9671 in Slidell and 888-7000 in wife and family in order to, New Orleans.

Bankruptcy petition may jeopardize Kelly Lyn suit

By BRENT MACEY

Members of the former Kelly Lyn Figure Salon in Waveland are waiting to hear if the company's recent decision to file bankruptcy will jeopardize their case against the firm.

Barbara Boston, a Bay St. Louis resident who organized local members to file complaints against the firm with the Mississippi Attorney General's office, Tuesday stated she thought the company's Waveland Branch had filed bankruptcy and the women's chances of regaining membership fees would be 'poor.'

The figure salon closed recently with no advance notice. Many local women had paid to renew their membership contracts only weeks before the salon locked its doors to customers.

The women requested a refund from the company and brought their complaints to the Attorney General's Office.

Tuesday, Carmen Castilla, an assistant attorney general in the Consumer Affairs office in Jackson, verified the company had filed 18 different bankruptcy petitions May 18 in Nashville, Tenn., the salons main headquarters.

However, Castilla was uncertain if the Waveland branch of the Kelly Lyn Salon was included in the bankruptcy filing.

According to Castilla the firm simply listed the franchise numbers of Kelly Lyn branches that were filing bankruptcy.

"We're in the process of matching up the numbers," she said.

Castilla said the women's case against the firm would be 'complicated' if the Waveland branch was included in the bankruptcy filing.

"If the Waveland branch is included in the bankruptcy filing then any claims against the firm would fall into the hands of the bankruptcy court," she said.

Castilla added the bankruptcy court would determine which claimants would be refunded, and how much.

Some 265 women from the Waveland Bay St. Louis area alone have filed complaints with the attorney general's office over the firms closing here.

Castilla noted Salon branches in Tupelo and Natchez also closed recently.

To complicate matters further, Boston said four companies were listed in the bankruptcy petition.

Firms included in the filing are, Kelly Lynn Management, Health Inc. of Montgomery, Kelly Lyn Franchise Salon Inc., and Kelly Lyn Franchise Company.

Castilla said she thought the Waveland branch might be included under Kelly Lyn Franchise Company.

She noted that company has a charter to operate in Mississippi as granted by the Mississippi Secretary of State Office in March of 1981.

"As far as we know that's the only company operating in Mississippi," Castilla said.

However, Castilla stated a possibility other charters existed.

"When I contacted the Secretary of State office I only asked for the firms which included the name of Kelly Lyn," she said.

"There might be other companies operating under another name," she said.

"There's also a possibility there could be companies operating in Mississippi illegally," she added.

Knowledge that the Waveland Salon may be a franchise came to a slap in the face to Boston who stated, "I didn't think they were a franchise."

Her membership contract with Kelly Lyn lists the firm's name as 'Kelly Lyn Figure Salons.'

Boston also claimed that she learned through conversations with the attorney general's office that the company has changed names twice previously.

Other names Boston claims the company operated under include, No. 1 Southern Salons and Southern Salons. To Castilla, the women's problem is not unique.

"In the health spa weight loss business there are many unscrupulous operators," she said.

She noted the Attorney General's Office has sued 'several' health spas in the past.

Castilla explained most of the companies have followed a similar pattern.

"They have a few pieces of equipment and they come into a small town which won't sustain them over a long period."

"They sign up a lot of people. Usually after two years they've exhausted all the people that are going to join."

"In the meantime, they have diminished only a small portion of what they had invested. Usually they are behind on the rent, the telephone bill, maybe money owed a construction business, advertising; so they're not out much money."

"When they've milked the community as much as they can they close up and move on to another town," she added.

Building a case against such a company is apparently a tough job.

Castilla noted the case would involve proving that the business practice was 'intentional' and not just poor business operation.

A bankruptcy filing complicates matters further.

"Even if you win a case involving bankruptcy there are so many creditors and so few assets to be gained that the chances of recovery are not really worth attempting," she said.

Castilla said the Attorney General's office did win one case, but they left the state and we can't find them," she said.

Boston feels the company operating the Kelly Lyn Figure Salon is 'a shame.'

"It's a racket," she said.

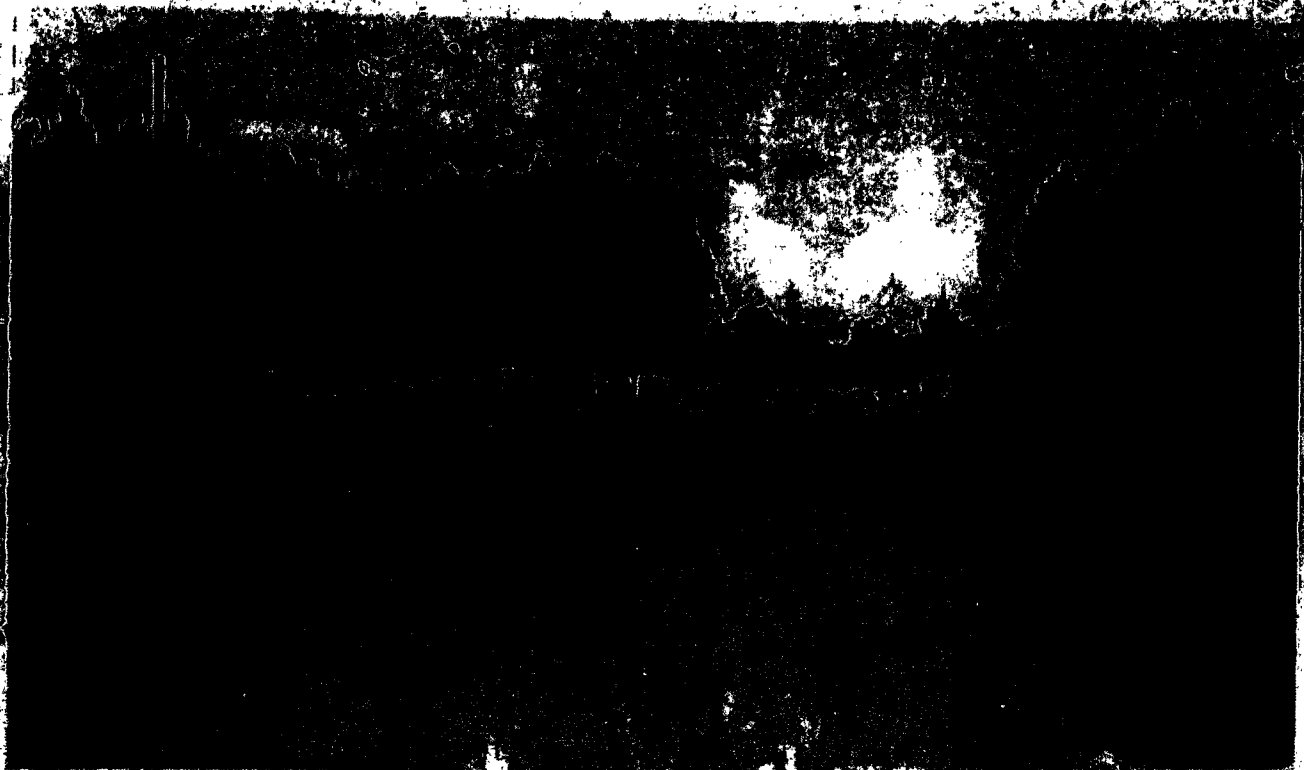

Castilla would not state what she thought of the Waveland Kelly Lyn operators until her office gathers more material on the firm.

She noted the Attorney General's Office requested information from the company including names and addresses of corporate offices, names of employees, financial books and records.

The investigative demand, mailed May 13 to a branch office in Mississippi, was never answered.

A second investigative demand, mailed to Frank Tribble, president of the company in Nashville, was mailed again June 4.

An answer is requested on or before June 14.

Bay man jailed for pointing gun at officer

By WAYNE DUCOMBE JR.

A Bay St. Louis man is being held in Hancock County Jail in lieu of $10,000 bond and slated for a City Court hearing facing various charges, which include pointing a loaded rifle at a Bay Police Department patrolman.

Police Chief Douglas Williams Tuesday reported Melville W. Ackerman, 54, of 338 Main St. is scheduled for a June 16 hearing charged with pointing and aiming a deadly weapon at a police officer, public drunk, and brandishing a weapon.

The department received a telephone call from a local resident at 10:35 p.m. Monday reporting a man walking along deMontluzin Street carrying two rifles, the chief said.

"Upon arrival, Patrolman Murray Ladner in his patrol car confronted Ackerman who was walking toward the beachfront on the street carrying a 30mm carbine in his hand and an M-15 carbine on his shoulder. Both guns were later found to be loaded," Williams explained.

"Ackerman then approached the patrol car and pointed one of the rifles at the officer," the chief said.

"The patrolman put his vehicle in reverse, concealed himself the best he could in the car, backed away from Ackerman and notified other police officers," Williams stated.

"Patrolman George Weatherly arrived at the scene and drove past Ackerman and Ladner to position Ackerman between the two vehicles. At this time Weatherly drew his revolver, identified himself as a police officer, and told Ackerman to drop his weapons and lie face down on the ground," the chief explained.

Ackerman obeyed the patrolman's orders, was arrested and jailed, Williams added.

ASSAULT CHARGED

The Hancock County Jail Docket lists

two men each booked by the Bay St. Louis Police Department with destroying private property and assault and battery.

Brian E. Mollere, 26, and Phillip D. Mollere, 27, are the two charged Tuesday night.

Williams was unavailable for comment Wednesday afternoon regarding the arrests.

SHOPLIFTING

The docket also lists Gary Dorsey, 24, booked by the Waveland Police Department with shoplifting.

Dorsey was charged at 7 p.m. Tuesday.

Waveland police officials were also unavailable for comment Wednesday afternoon regarding the incident.

Searchers in boats were using grappling hooks. Others waded in the surf in search of Schexneider.

The pirogue which was recovered about one-half mile from the estimated capsizing Wednesday morning was about 10 foot long and had two paddles.

Police say they received reports that the two boaters had removed life jackets and left them on the beach before entering the water.

Estimated distance from the shoreline of the capsizing was about one-half mile in waters between six to eight feet deep near the main entrance of Buccaneer State Park.

The presumed drowning occurred west of the 'hole' which has claimed over 25 lives in recent years.

Dragging operations involved up to six boats at a time, Peterson said.

Those involved in the search include the Hancock County sheriff's office, Waveland Police department, Marine Conservation officers, Department of Wildlife, Hancock County Civil Defense, Hancock County Firemen Association members, RSVP, Mobile Medic Ambulance Service, Hancock County Chapter of the American Red Cross, and numerous volunteers.

Robert Clark, disaster service chairman for the Hancock County Civil Defense provide sandwiches prepared by the RSVP Committee help-out and soft drinks for the volunteers.

Peterson stated, "We will continue dragging operations until we find the body. We will go back at 5 p.m. Wednesday and if we are not successful before dark we will continue tomorrow morning."

trash are still legally responsible for a fire confining on their property. If a fire spreads to a neighbors land, the person who sets the blaze is guilty of misdemeanor woods arson and will be prosecuted by the county to the full extent of the law," he stated.

The arson investigator said the Diamondhead department has stopped issuing burning permits until unusually dry weather conditions improve.

Spokesmen of the Bay and Waveland departments and forestry commission Tuesday said they are still issuing permits.

Friloux reported the arson squad recently received two electronic hydrocarbon sensors dubbed sniffers which were recently donated to the county by local insurance agencies.

He said the sniffer aids in arson investigations by quickly detecting the location of flammable liquids frequently utilized in these incidents.

Richard L. Brown, 21, of Leetown Road in that community was the eighth person arrested for arson in the county.

He was scheduled for trial Wednesday night before Justice Court Judge Horatio Friloux on a third degree arson charge (a felony), Friloux said.

The investigator explained Brown Sunday night apparently set a 1966 model automobile on fire near his home after a domestic dispute.

Brown said he owned the burned automobile, but could not prove ownership, Friloux said.

The Leetown man was released after a $2,500 bond was paid, the investigator reported.

Friloux noted a felony arson charge is levied when property valued at more than $25 is destroyed and if Brown is convicted, he faces a one to three-year prison sentence.

Deputies Russell Watts and Danny Savoy assisted Friloux in the arrest along with Ken and Elaine Saucer of the Diamondhead department photography unit.

Regarding two apparent woods arson fires extinguished Monday by the East Hancock department, Friloux said he is seeking suspects in both incidents.

He stated a fire reported at 2 p.m. on Avenue D in Shoreline Park was apparently ignited by a contractor clearing property to build a boat slip.

"He (the contractor) was apparently burning trash and left the area. The fire spread to adjacent property," Friloux reported.

The investigator also said an owner of property on Kemper Street in BaySide Park was sought in regard to a fire reported at about 4 p.m. that day to the department.

Friloux noted the department extinguished the fire which spread to other nearby structures.

He added both alleged perpetrators, if convicted, will face misdemeanor charges of woods arson.

Pearlington native credited with marine engineering first

By EDGAR PEREZ
Mike Wilson of Houma, La., St. Stanislaus High School graduate and son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wilson of Pearlington, has been credited with completion of a major marine engineering project apparently never before accomplished on the Gulf Coast.

Wilson, engineering manager for Houma's Delta Shipyard, and David Williams, the yard's project manager, successfully transferred the 950-ton superstructure of a posted drilling barge from its existing deteriorated barge hull to a new hull designed and built by Delta.

"The new barge hull is 185 feet by 50 feet by 14 feet compared to the 185-by-50-by-12-foot existing hull," Wilson said.

In order to transfer the superstructure to the new hull, Wilson said, Delta's outfitting slip was dredged and a two-foot shell mat was placed at the bottom to compensate for the difference in hull depths. The old barge, still intact, was sunk onto the shell mat next to the new Delta barge hull.

Williams explained that "The two barge hulls were secured together with steel plates and cables for stability during the transfer process. A concrete leveling course was poured on the decks of both barges to compensate for a six-inch inverse deck chamber."

Approximately $10,000 worth of timber matting was used to distribute the weight of the superstructure over the interior of the hull.

Eleven cranes were used to move the superstructure to the new hull. The cranes were positioned around the existing hull and the new hull to transfer the weight of the superstructure to the new hull.

The lower two feet of the column supports were removed, which placed the weight of the structure onto the transfer matting.

ADOPT A CAT MONTH
The Harrison County Humane Society is leaping into action for its feline friends during June, national Adopt-A-Cat month. It's the feline's time to shine as the shelter makes a special effort to find homes for the cats now under its wing.

The cats are up against big odds: More than 8 million cats are left homeless every year and taken in by shelters nationwide. Following the cats' peak breeding season in spring, June always brings a large number of kittens in need of human "parents."

The Harrison County Humane Society is one of more than 750 humane societies in the U.S. and Canada, taking part in the campaign, which is sponsored for the American Humane Association.

"Most of the time, it's more a case of a cat adopting a human than the other way around," commented Ellen Loper, shelter director.

"We have so many kittens and cats to choose from, it's hard not to find one you would like to have as your own. More and more people seem to be discovering the joys of living with a cat, as cats are excellent pets, and they are good for families, singles and older people."

For those whose main contact with cats has been a casual brush on the streets or at a friend's home, now is a good time to make friends with a feline.

Cats, as any cat lover will gladly inform you, are clean, comforting, beautiful, independent and finicky.

Mrs. Loper also recommends a social animal: In the case of a full-grown cat, one accustomed to people and human contact; in the case of a kitten, one which is curious and responds to human attention.

"Cats are not all alike under the fur. There are many distinct personalities, from the social climber who likes the run of the home and is always on the move to those with a more relaxed attitude whose routine rests heavily on catnaps," she added.

"We like people to take their time and select a compatible cat, and I welcome all of you to come out and visit us this month," Loper said.

Astrologer gives Cooney slight edge

It's a man's destiny can be foretold in the stars, then World Heavyweight Boxing Champion Larry Holmes' horoscope looks more like a "horoscope" according to nationally known astrologer Jack Provenzano, who is predicting a narrow victory for challenger Gerry Cooney.

LARRY HOLMES

Bud Furillo in Los Angeles on Memorial Day, Provenzano predicted the fight will be a "highly-controversial 15-round split decision" with Cooney winning by a whisker.

The prediction runs counter to the opinions of the majority of boxing writers and commentators, as well as boxing insiders, who give the 33-year-old Holmes the edge because of his ring savvy and proven ability against the relatively unproven Cooney, who is 26.

"When you look at Holmes' sun chart, you see just how devastating a champion he is," says the nationally syndicated Provenzano, "and how he will not be an easy champion to unseat."

But the New York-based astrologer, attending the American Book Association National Convention in Anaheim, Calif., went on to say that "the stars do not look good for Holmes despite his power on June 11 of this year."

Provenzano bases his prediction on astrological indications that Holmes is overtrained at this point, even musclebound, and he says the muscles in Holmes' lower back will bother him during the fight, perhaps even go into a spasm.

Provenzano says that Cooney will have a very good 14th round, perhaps coming close to knocking out the champion.

Holmes, on the other hand, says Provenzano, will come right back in the 15th and almost knock out Cooney, ending the fight on a high note.

Nevertheless, from his detailed astrological study of both men's birth dates and times, Provenzano predicts a very controversial fight that will go the distance with a split decision favoring Cooney, the former Ironworker from Huntington, N.Y., by a wafer thin margin over the defending champion and former truck driver from Easton, Pa.

"My analysis of the two men and their sun signs, plus a detailed look at the constellation of the key planets on June 11, tells me that Holmes will push to end the fight early, with a knockout anywhere from the fourth to the sixth rounds."

Holmes, who is a Scorpio, was born in the afternoon of November 3, 1949 in Cuthbert, Ga., while Cooney, a Virgo was born August 24, 1956 in New York City.

Provenzano says the fifth round will feature an uneventful knockdown by either man but despite the predictions of most boxing writers that either Holmes or Cooney will knock the other out by the seventh or eighth round, Provenzano sees the fight going the distance.

"If my calculations are correct," Provenzano concludes, "I see a rematch in the near future with Holmes decisively knocking out Cooney to regain the championship."

Provenzano made astrological history a few years ago with the publication of his "Sign-Align Astrologer on Wheels," a set of color-coded discs that enable anyone to quickly and accurately pinpoint crucial astrological relationships without using the complex charts and reference books that have long kept authentic astrology from the general public.

The long-awaited fight will be held at Caesar's Palace in Las Vegas, Nevada with an outstanding undercard that will include the Super Bantamweight championship between Wilfredo (Bazooka) Gomez, who will make his 15th defense of his title against the number one rated Juan Lopez, Gomez has knocked out 36 of his 37 opponents.

Greg Page, former National AAU Heavyweight champion will meet Trevor Berbick, Canadian champ in a one-rounder.

Earnie Shavers, the hardest one-punch heavyweight in the business is matched against James (Quick) Tillis in another 10-round fight.

Mark Holmes, younger brother of Larry, will meet a yet unnamed opponent in a middleweight scrap. The younger Holmes has a 19-0 record as a pro.

Boxing fans in the Gulf Coast area will be able to see the fights live from Las Vegas on closed circuit television on the giant screen in the Coast Coliseum beginning at 8 p.m., Friday, June 11.

Tickets are available at the Coliseum box office, Loiacano's Health Club in Bay St. Louis, and Merchants Bank in Long Beach.

Wildlife Department sets season dates, bag limits

At a meeting in Biloxi recently, the state Department of Wildlife Conservation proposed a series of season dates and bag limits for the upcoming 1982-83 hunting season.

The five-member commission met and proposed the seasons after a series of statewide public meetings and after hearing from the Department's technical staff.

According to a Department spokesman, the public will have until June 26 to make further comments concerning these seasons. After that, if the Commission feels it is unnecessary to make any additional changes, then these seasons and dates will become effective.

The proposed fall and winter hunting seasons and dates include:

Bobwhite Quail
November 25, 1982 - February 28, 1983.

Rabbit
October 2, 1982 - February 28, 1983.

Diamondhead plans

July 4 swimming competition

The board of directors of the Diamondhead Community Association June 2 heard Dawn Trudeau report on the program for the Gulf Coast Fishing Rodeo queen contestants.

They will visit Baton Rouge and Jackson as representatives of their sponsors and as part of their experience in the contest for queen. The competition will take place on June 26 at the Broadwater Motel in Biloxi. Ms. Trudeau is Diamondhead's entry in the pageant.

The board congratulated President Hilda Bourg for her outstanding success in bringing Diamondhead into the political arena of Hancock County.

Ms. Bourg will be in a runoff June 15 against Ms.

Meredith Anderson for Justice Court judge, Beat 3.

On July 4 the Community Association will hold a swim meet for ages 4-15 and 15 and up in cooperation with Diamondhead's all day July 4th Street Festival.

The Association has instituted a Neighborhood Awareness Program under the chairmanship of Mrs. Lee Peterson.

Signs, door stickers, and engraving machines will be available for Diamondhead members. This plan has proved to be one of the best crime deterrents in the United States.

The next general meeting of the Diamondhead Community Association will be August 6. A optional dinner will precede the meeting.

Bay St. Louis to get additional 500,000 bass

The Gulf Coast Research Laboratory project entitled "Striped Bass Restoration Program-Mississippi Gulf Coast" has been extended from Sept. 30, 1982, to Jan. 31, 1983, to allow time for evaluation of the final year of the research.

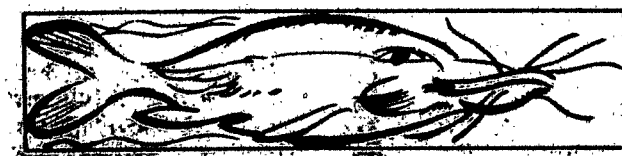

Project funds were increased to cover salaries and project costs amounting to $34,000. The federal share was $17,000 and the Laboratory share, $17,000.

Dr. Thomas Mellwain, assistant director for fisheries research and management is principal investigator, and the assistant biologist Larry Nicholson is project leader.

At the end of May, project personnel stocked 97,000 Laboratory-reared striped bass fingerlings in the Biloxi Bay System. Another 500,000 fry are being reared at the Lab for stocking in the Bay of St. Louis around the end of June.

In late May, Laboratory personnel stocked 43,000 striped bass fingerlings in the Pascagoula River. The fish were reared at the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Hatchery in Natchitoches, La.

They also stocked 127,000 fish from the Meridian, Ms., Fish Hatchery; 67,000 in the Tchoutacabouffa River and 60,000 in Fort Bayou.

Striped bass and certain other fishes are believed to have a protective layer in the skin that covers their bodies.

These tables depict a summary of the results of assessment tests given in the Bay-Waveland Schools for the past four years.

The tests used were the California Short Form Test of Academic Aptitude and the California Achievement Test, Form C.

A plus indicates the district's average score is above the anticipated level when comparing achievement with aptitude.

A zero indicates the average score is where it should be according to the ability of the students.

A minus indicates the average achievement score is below the anticipated level. "A close study of these results will reveal a steady but significant improvement in the achievement level comparison during these four years," said Bay St. Louis Municipal School Superintendent J.D. McCullough.

He said Monday, these statistics will be presented to the trustees at their next meeting.

The comparisons are made with all school districts in Mississippi and grade students on vocabulary, comprehension, concepts, mechanics, usage and spelling.

This information is part of the educational accountability and assessment program for grades 4, 6, and 8 which has to be supplied to the State Superintendent of Education.

UNIVERSITY AWARDS—Seventh grade students at Episcopal High School by Delta University through the university's Talent Identification Program include: Hunt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Hunt and Mrs. Deen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Deen. The Talent Identification Program awards are based on scores received by seventh and eighth grade participants on the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT), a college entrance examination designed primarily for eleventh and twelfth grade students. Hunt has participated in the Gifted Studies Program at the University of Southern Mississippi for two summers. She has been an honor student and has received various academic awards. Deen is also an honor student. She attended Christ Episcopal Day School where she received scholastic awards each year. Parker is very active in gymnastics and has won awards in competitions for the past two years.

Dean lists Wild

Thomas Stephen Wild of Bay St. Louis has been named to the Dean's List at Mississippi College for the second semester of the 1981-82 school session.

Dr. Charles Martin, vice president for Academic Affairs at the College, released the names of those students eligible for the select list.

A student must maintain a 3.5 or better grade point average based on a 4.0 system and take a full course load of 12 semester hours in order to be named to the Dean's List. Selection is based upon grades received in academic work only. Of the 384 students named to the Dean's List, 143 recorded straight "A" averages.

ACADEMIC AFFAIRS

Dr. Gerald W. Walker, dean of the College of Liberal Arts at The University of Mississippi, has been named associate vice chancellor for academic affairs, director of the summer session and professor of English.

Announcement of the appointment, effective July 1, was made by Chancellor Porter L. Fortune Jr. following approval by the Board of Trustees of State Institutions of Higher Learning.

DRUG QUIZ

by Curt Scarborough, Ph.D. Used by permission: all rights reserved by DATE, St. Louis, Mo. QUESTION—Scientists usually separate drugs into four major classifications. One of these classes of drugs induces sleep or stupor and relieves pain. Which?

- Depressants
- Narcotics
- Hallucinogens
- Stimulants

ANSWER—The term "narcotics" frequently is misused to describe all dangerous drugs. Technically, a narcotic is an opiate that depresses the central nervous system causing stupor and insensibility.

Correct answer—b. For further information about alcohol and drug abuse write Christian Action Commission, P.O. Box 530, Jackson, MS 39205.

Gulf Coast JC trustees ok $15.8 million budget

A $15.8 million budget approved recently by the Gulf Coast Junior College Board of Trustees for fiscal year 1982-83 is $150,000 less than the last '81-82 budget estimate, a school official said.

Gwyn Naderhoff, executive assistant for administration and finance, said the college at one time faced a $350,000 total year-end deficit.

"But we were able to balance the budget without raising tuition of full-time students or cutting salaries."

A budget recommended to the board a month ago by GCJC President, Dr. J.J. Hayden, Jr., was rejected because it called for raising tuition and/or as an alternative reducing salaries.

"We put the pencil to the 1981-82 budget and cut about $310,000. We may end up $40,000 or $50,000 in the red, but we can eliminate the deficit by taking money from the present fund operating balance."

Naderhoff said that the college will have to practice frugality in all areas but in no instance will the quality of education suffer.

He said some of the ways the budget was reduced included trimming $20,000 from the expenditures and $40,000 of materials and supplies. A further savings of $80,000 was realized from a job freeze, a policy that prohibits filling all but essential job vacancies.

"A real stroke of fortune," said Naderhoff, "was the announcement by the Mississippi Junior College Commission that we have $65,000 in additional state money coming to us as a result of the Commission's year-end audit of our enrollment."

The budget was helped by the Board's decision in a special meeting on Tuesday, May 11, to increase from $2 to $5 the registration fee for all students. Naderhoff said the change, first in many years, will produce about $44,000.

"This additional charge will enable students to receive Basic Education Opportunity Grants (BEOG) to qualify for up to $250 a year under the federally supported program," Naderhoff said.

In other student-related matters, the board voted to change the entrance and publication fee from $20 to $25 a semester and to reaffirm a decision made last year to increase from $5 to $10 the per semester room and tuition charge for part-time students. This will result in an estimated revenue of $124,000.

Of the application fee, Naderhoff said students who enroll in and attend classes will have the $30 credited to their regular fees.

While it appears that the budget for '82-83 is in good shape, college administrators told the board that long-range ways of reducing expenditures are being studied.

Gilberti named Bay Star Student

The Mississippi Economic Council has announced that Joseph A. Gilberti, a senior at Bay Senior High School, has been selected as the school's Star Student.

Star Students are selected on the basis of academic excellence, scholastic averages and scores on the American College Test are considered.

The Student Teacher Achievement Recognition Program encourages and promotes academic achievement among Mississippi's high school students, explained Bob Pittman, president of MEC.

Top scholars are being designated as Star Students in more than 300 participating schools in Mississippi. From these Star students, area winners will be selected, and the Council will award scholarships to the state's top Star students.

Each Star student is asked to designate a Star teacher, a teacher who has made the greatest contribution to the student's scholastic achievement. Designated by Gilberti as Star teacher was Mrs. Pat Harris.

Both the Star student and the Star teacher will receive certificates from the Council.

In addition to being eligible for competition for scholarship awards.

Gilberti, 17, is son of Paul and Katherine Gilberti of Bay St. Louis.

He was an honor roll student, Student Council member, member of the National Honor Society, Latin Club, and Phi Kappa Fraternity.

Mrs. Harris, also of Bay St. Louis, is ninth and tenth grade mathematics teacher at Bay High. She has served in the Bay School System for the past eight years, and is a graduate of University of Southern Mississippi.
